

Submissions to DigitalCommons@UConn

From the repository home page, <http://digitalcommons.uconn.edu/>, go to "research unit, center, or department." Then find the appropriate community, and the appropriate series. NOTE: Since there can be multiple series for any given community, make sure you select the correct series for your submission. Failure to do so may require you to resubmit any material.

The series should have a "Submit a Paper" link. If not, contact the repository coordinator. Click on that to begin your submission.

The following are required for each submission: author(s), title, date, file(s), and publication information (if applicable). Optional fields are keywords and abstract. Completing these fields will enhance the discovery and retrieval of the file.

Author(s) and author email addresses

If authors are to be notified automatically when submissions are loaded and available, and/or to receive monthly notification of the number of downloads of their document(s), email addresses are required; otherwise, they are optional.

To input Author information, use the Add Author button, and fill out the information. Note: this information will already be filled out if you supplied the email address of an author who has an account, or made a previous submission (if they provided their email address with the submission).

Only first and last name are required. If you want to include UConn as the Institution for an author entry, use University of Connecticut. Lower level administrative units can be added to the name; i.e., University of Connecticut Department of History.

Continue to use the Add Author button until all authors are listed.

The screenshot shows the 'add authors...' form. At the top, there is a text input field for 'Author's email address (optional)' and a 'Save Author' button. Below this is a table with columns for 'Name/Email', 'Institution', and 'Order'. The first row contains 'John Doe' and 'University of Connecticut Department of History'. The 'Order' column has a dropdown menu set to '1st author'. To the right of the table are buttons for 'Delete', 'Edit', 'Add', and 'Cancel'. A 'Continue' button is at the bottom left. Three callout boxes with arrows point to specific elements: one points to the 'Save Author' button with the text 'To input author information, click here.', another points to the 'Order' dropdown with 'Change the order of the authors as needed.', and a third points to the 'Edit' button with 'Edit name, institution, and contact information.' At the bottom of the form are navigation links: HOME, ABOUT | HELP, MY ACCOUNT | NOTIFY ME | SEARCH.

Title: Capitalize all title words, except for prepositions, articles, etc.

Date: Use the date of publication, if applicable, or submission date, if no other date is provided. If month is unknown, use January. If day is unknown, use 1. If no date is entered, the current date will be applied.

The screenshot shows the 'Title' and 'Date of this version' input fields. The title field contains the text 'The Default is to Capitalize All Words and Prepositions'. The date field is a dropdown menu showing 'May' and '2006'. Below the date field is a note: 'Enter "2" for the day if the actual day is unknown.'

Keywords: Use lowercase, and separate with commas.

Abstract You can choose the layout using the formatting options available. Use HTML coding as necessary.
